

My husband Jim and I were directed to Mutt Matchers by our vet, Dr. Kristin Andrews, who just happens to be the facility's veterinarian! We were talking to her about adopting a dog after our eleven-year old lab/shepherd mix died in May. We were devastated by Cassie's passing but we felt we had a lot of love to give another dog. We were also concerned about our fifteen year old border collie, Comet, who lost his dear companion of eleven years. Comet did not do well; he was lonely and confused. He had just lost Cassie and we had also moved to Bullhead City. He acted like he had become demented; he would have accidents in the house and he refused to use the doggy door to go outside. We were considering putting him down. However, I could not bear to lose another dog. I thought that maybe Comet was just depressed because he no longer had Cassie so Jim and I went to Mutt Matchers and adopted Farrah. We had seen Farrah's picture and description on Mutt Matcher's website. Dr. Andrews said that the dogs at this facility were healthy and had been selected from other shelters because of their great dispositions. Well, we adopted Farrah and she has met all of these criteria. She is a good and loving dog and gets along well with Comet who is now back to his old curmudgeon self. We are a complete family once again. I would not hesitate to adopt another dog from Mutt Matcher's. They are a great facility with a great staff.
